For a greener tomorrow

We are ISO 14001 certified now!

What is ISO 14001? ISO 14001 is a standard for environmental management systems to be implemented in any business, regardless of size, location or income. The aim of the standard is to reduce the environmental footprint of a business and to decrease the pollution and waste a business produces.

Why? The ISO 14001 environmental management standards exist to help organizations minimize how their operations negatively affect the environment.

How? In order for an organization to be awarded an ISO 14001 certificate they must be externally audited by an audit body that has been accredited by an accreditation body.

Processes

We care for our world.
After all this is our only home.

We obtained product Green Label certified under Singapore Green Labelling Scheme.

What is Green Label? The Singapore Green Labelling Scheme (SGLS) was launched in May 1992 by the Ministry of the Environment. The Green Label can be used on products which meet the eco standards specified by the scheme, and is recognised as a member of the international Global Ecolabelling Network (GEN).

Why? The Singapore Environment Council (SEC) has administered the scheme since June 1999. The Council is a nationally orientated, non-governmental organisation that seeks to raise the level of environmental awareness and action within industry and the community.

How? In order to be certified Green Label, products must compliance the criterion stated in the scheme. For panel board category, products must pass the indoor environment quality test and must have at least 30% of recycled or reused materials content.
